CONDUCTOR BIRD FEARED THIRTEEN

He Lost Both Legs, Yesterday, and Died of His Injuries.

South Norwalk, Conn., May 25.—The number thirteen was the cause of Conductor Philip T. Bird's losing his legs here yesterday afternoon. He died in Norwalk Hospital at 7:30 last evening.

As Conductor Bird left his home yesterday morning, he glanced at the number on his house and saw 13. "I don't like that," he said to his wife. Seventeen years a railroad man, Bird was considered one of the nerviest conductors on the line. While cutting his train in two at Wilson's Point he slipped between cars and two of them passed over his legs. Then the conductor's nerve returned. Fully conscious, he told his crew how to bandage the limbs and staunch the flow of blood. Unless this had been done he would not have lived until the doctor arrived. John Horan, the engineer, a brother-in-law of the injured man, was prostrated by the accident, and the train had to be held up for a new crew before proceeding.

TEACHER TO SHARE IN BIG ESTATE

Carlisle, Penn., May 25.—Mrs. Mary Leas, for a number of years a teacher at Conway Hall, a preparatory school here, has received word that by the will of Silas Leas, a milling machine manufacturer of Rock Island, Ill., who died a week ago, she and her five daughters will receive a share of the deceased's estate, amounting to a sum between $250,000 and $500,000.

Silas Leas was a brother of Mrs. Leas' late husband, George W. Leas. His estate is said to be worth over $2,000,000. The bequest was unexpected.

CHARGES AGAINST TWO TORRINGTON OFFICERS

Torrington, May 25.—At the meeting of the board of wardens and burgesses last night it was voted to instruct the borough attorney to prepare a formal complaint charging Officers B. A. Beers and Victor Metling with conduct unbecoming an officer. This action was taken after hearing the report of Burgess Hotchkiss and Folk, who were appointed to investigate reports concerning the officers. A public hearing will be given the officers in the borough court at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The by-law which declares the firing of firecrackers, torpedoes or other combustible fireworks, to be a nuisance was adopted.

WINSTED THREATENED BY TYPHOID EPIDEMIC

Winsted, May 25.—The steadily growing number of typhoid fever cases in the borough is causing the authorities and others much uneasiness and every effort is being made to ascertain the cause of the disease. Four or five more cases developed Sunday, bringing the total up to nearly a score.

Practically all are in the east end of the borough and suspicion has been directed to the Millard farm on the Riverton road, which furnished much of the milk in the town. Health Officers Wheeler and Howd have visited the farm and although they found conditions highly satisfactory a sample of the water used there has been sent to the state chemist for analysis. Among those now suffering with the disease are C. C. Buck, James Newton, John Boynton, Malcolm Hool, E. R. Abbott, Herman Olsen, Frank James, Miss Blake, Mrs. Raymond Barnes, Edwin Lamphier and King Blucher.

SHIPMENTS MUST BE DELIVERED

Supreme Court of United States Renders Decision Relating to Taking Whiskey into Dry Counties of South.

Washington, May 25.—The wave of prohibition sweeping through the South was given a serious setback yesterday when the Supreme Court decided that dry counties cannot be protected by State statutes. Any shipment of liquor coming from beyond the State boundaries must be delivered.

The court, through Justice Brewer, decided in favor of the Adams Express Company in a suit brought by the State of Kentucky charging it with violating a law prohibiting railroads from delivering liquor to known inebriates. Justice Harlan dissented.

"Whatever the wholesomeness of the motive," said Justice Brewer in the opinion, "Congress alone has power to regulate interstate liquor transportation."

Liquor which was purchased at Nashville and forwarded through New Albany, Ind., was delivered by the express company to a consignee at Bonniwell, Ky. When the company was sued under the Liquor Shipment law the Hart Circuit Court adjudged the shipment as not of an interstate character and found in favor of the State. A retrial was refused, and an appeal was denied by the same court on the ground that the sum in controversy did not exceed $50. The express company then sued out a writ of error, alleging that the court erred in admitting incompetent testimony that the consignee was an inebriate and maintained at the same time that the shipment was interstate in character.

WATERBURY CLUB FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Bona Fide and Incorporated But Guilty, Says Judge McMahon.

On the ground that under the statute of Connecticut a regularly incorporated club cannot sell liquors to its members without violating the law, Judge McMahon of the city court of Waterbury imposed a fine yesterday on William and Ignatius Yasulaitis, regularly constituted officers of the Lithuanian Political Citizens' Club of Waterbury, an incorporated organization with a bona fide list of members who pay regular dues. The three charges brought against the treasurer were selling liquor without a license, keeping liquor with intent to sell and having the reputation of being a place where liquor was sold.

Judge McMahon said that he did not understand from the law that an incorporated club could sell liquor to its own members, whether money or checks were taken in payment for the liquor. The club has no license from the country commissioners nor was it under restrictions as saloons are and he was inclined to think that he had no discretion but to find the men guilty. He furthermore said that while the supreme court had in a recent case left undecided the question of the legality of the sale of liquor by a club to its members, it had gone so far as to decline to affirm the doctrine that such a sale was legal.
